

Shelving Products

Shelving is an economical option for industrial storage applications and can be utilized in a variety of environments including warehouses, retail stores and offices. Shelving applications are ideal for systems that are under 8 ft. and for accessing products by hand.

REB Storage Systems International offers shelving solutions for light, medium and heavy duty applications tailored to your storage requirements. Systems can be designed in a variety of sizes, decking options and shelf adjustments outfitted to adequately store your inventory.

If you are unclear on whether to implement a racking or shelving system in your facility, reference this comparison chart to find out which solution is right for you.

SHELVING VS RACKING

Product is accessed by hand	ACCESSIBILITY	Options for accessing product by hand and using vehicles
Small parts storage Light-duty inventory	TYPICAL STORAGE APPLICATIONS	Palletized products Large, heavy and/or bulky products
Retail backroom, offices, manufacturing, self-storage units or handpicking areas of DCs	TYPICAL ENVIRONMENTS	Warehouses, distribution centers or manufacturing facilities
Heights under 8' are not typically required to be secured to the floor	INSTALLATION	Required to be anchored to the floor
Typically more cost effective. Depending on application, systems are available as a pick module system	OTHER CONSIDERATIONS	Best choice for systems over 12' and for use of catwalks and/or pick module systems

For larger, heavier product storage, view our racking products page for more information regarding the best options for your application requirements.
